

Healthy Communities

A FREE TRAINING FOR LIBRAIRIES AND COMMUNITY CENTRES

In every community setting, it is essential for everyone to cultivate increased awareness and acceptance of neurodivergent individuals, seeking to improve interactions with them. Autism Canada's Healthy Communities Literacy Program is specifically crafted for delivery in libraries and community centers throughout Canada.

This program serves as a concise introduction to autism, providing insights into the experience of being autistic. Additionally, it incorporates information on Sensory Support Kits and initiates discussions on the establishment of Safe Spaces.

Why participate in our Healthy Communities Literacy Programs?

Creating an inclusive, supportive, and accessible environment in community centers and libraries is crucial for fostering social awareness and acceptance. This ensures that individuals with neurodiversities can actively participate and take full advantage of the resources and opportunities provided by these community spaces.

Let us teach you:

- About Autism
- What does Spectrum mean?
- About Sensory Processing
- Sensory Support Kits and how to use them.
- An introduction to Safe Spaces

Virtual and Video training is available. This training is free and includes the delivery of a Sensory Support Kit.
